1. The applicant is hereby notified that this International Preliminary Examining Authority transmits herewith the international preliminary report on patentability and its annexes, if any, established on the international application.
2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.
3. Where required by any of the elected Offices, the International Bureau will prepare an English translation of the report (but not of any annexes) and will transmit such translation to those Offices.

4. REMINDER

The applicant must enter the national phase before each elected Office by performing certain acts (filing translations and paying national fees) within 30 months from the priority date (or later in some Offices) (Article 39(1)) (see also the reminder sent by the International Bureau with Form PCT/I/B/301).

Where a translation of the international application must be furnished to an elected Office, that translation must contain a translation of any annexes to the international preliminary report on patentability. It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: WO 03/048133 (cited in the application)
D2: WO 01/60816

Re Item III

Claims 18-20 and 28 relate to subject-matter considered by this Authority to be covered by the provisions of Rule 67.1(iv) PCT. Consequently, no opinion will be formulated with respect to the industrial applicability of the subject-matter of these claims (Article 34(4)(a)(I) PCT).

Re Item V

1) The subject-matter of present claims 1-11 and 13, 14, 16, 17, 19-21, 23, 24 and 26-28 is not new (Article 33(2) PCT).

The document D1 relates to (IGF-1R) tyrosine kinase inhibitors for the treatment of proliferative diseases as cancer (cf. page 18, 58 and 59). Consequently, D1 belongs to the same technical field as the present application and solves a closely related technical problem.

Due to the proviso, the present claims are novel over the examples of D1 (cf. examples 44, 45, 92). However, the subject-matter of the present claim 1-11 essentially overlaps the group of compounds defined in claim 8 of D1.

The range of the overlap can not be regarded as novel, because there is no new technical teaching in the range of the overlap and, as shown by the various examples falling within the scope of the present claims, the skilled person would seriously contemplate applying the technical teaching of D1 in the range of the overlap. Therefore the whole range of the overlap is not novel.

Considering the activity, the intended use and the preparation of the compounds of D1 (cf. pages 15 and 18-22), the claims 13, 14, 16, 17, 19-21, 23, 24 and 26-28 are also not novel.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY
REPORT ON PATENTABILITY
(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.
PCT/GB2004/004784

1.1) The subject-matter of the present claims is seen as novel selection from the teaching of D2 for the following reasons.
While there is an overlap between the subject of the present claims and the group of compounds defined by claim 1 of D2 (R2 is NHR5 and R5 is alkyl substituted with aryl), there are no examples in D2 showing the said feature. Therefore, the subject-matter of the present claims is regarded as novel selection from the disclosure of D2.

2) The subject-matter of claims 12, 15, 18, 22, 25 and the novel part of claims 1-11 and 13, 14, 16, 17, 19-21, 23, 24 and 26-28 does not involve an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT).

D2 represents the closest prior art and relates to inhibitor of tyrosine kinases as IGF-1 and TRKA (cf. page 18, example 24 and tables 2, 3).

The subject-matter of claim 1 consists in the selection of a of a group of compounds from the group described in document D2 (cf. above). Such a selection can only be regarded as inventive, if the selection presents unexpected effects or properties in relation to the rest of the range (cf. examples 1, 5-9 or 33-35). However, no such effects or properties are indicated in the application. Hence, no inventive step is present in the subject-matter of the claims.
